Pamela Jacobs Consulting

This one-day pre-conference will address legal requirements and best practice strategies related to responding to and preventing campus sexual assault. Participants will learn about the realities and prevalence of sexual assault and gender-based violence on campus, Title IX requirements related to confidential reporting and remedying hostile environments, and best practice strategies for building an effective campus response. Participants will also address ways to enhance effective collaboration between campus officials, community sexual assault advocacy programs, and other victim service professionals.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER:

Pamela Jacobs is an attorney, advocate, speaker, and writer dedicated to empowering survivors and working to end sexual assault and domestic violence. Pamela has worked with survivors for over 15 years, and currently speaks to audiences nationwide about how to respond to and prevent these epidemics.

Pamela regularly consults with multi-disciplinary professionals, including law enforcement, victim advocates, attorneys, military personnel and command staff, and university faculty and personnel. She is also a regular contributor to the Huffington Post and an Expert Writer on Toxic Relationship Support for About.com. She also teaches courses and leads online support groups for survivors through Courage Beyond, a national non-profit serving military members and their families.

In Pamela's trainings, she utilizes empathy, connection, humor, and her own experiences as a survivor to inspire and empower audiences to create change in their homes, organizations, schools, and communities. Prior to becoming a consultant, Pamela led statewide non-profits, represented victims in legal proceedings, and advocated for victims with the media and legislature.

Pamela received her Juris Doctorate from Washburn University School of Law, graduating with Dean's Honors, and her Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Lincoln University, graduating Summa cum Laude. She currently resides in North Carolina with her teenage daughter and rescued pets. For more information, please visit pamelajacobs.com
